Another Reason to Attend 2MBS

Category [tags]: Blogging

Hey guys!

The 2nd Mindanao Bloggers Summit is less than a week away. The organizers and volunteers (including me) are starting to get busy, really busy. Kuya Avel and company is brewing something big, bigger than the tuna in GenSan.

Aside from the post-summit events (tour, Sashimi night, among others), there is certainly more reason to attend the said event. I will be speaking for the shout-out in the afternoon — will rant about my blog, my blog life (blogger's events, etc) and life as a student blogger.

I, too, am very excited for my shout-out. In fact, I'm now starting to outline what I'll be saying. For parties interested on getting the outline, I'll post them on my blog right after my shout-out (yes, there's free wireless Internet connection in the area powered by 802.11a/b/g technology).

Weeeee, exciting! See you there!
